BILLING ALIAS TRELAWDER.

This family is of Norman descent. The name is still found in France.* It is of great antiquity in Cornwall under the following and other forms: Byllun, Billon, Billion, Billoun, Bylloun, Bullen, Byllyng, and Billing.

In 1282 Paganus de Trelewith petitioned against Ralph Byllon concerning one messuage and one ferling of land in Trelewith, to which Paganus alleged Ralph had no entry, except by Richard Billun, who had unjustly disseized the said Paganus, and Paganus recovered his seizin.† In the same year Matilda Joyan petitioned against the same Ralph concerning a tenement in Trevyer juxta St. Vuelun (St. Eval), but was nonsuited.‡ In 1291 Roger de Treworgy took out a plea of assize of the death of an ancestor against John Byllon;§ and in 1302 Richard Manguen petitioned against John Byllon concerning one messuage, &c. in Treyer juxta St. Vuelun, which he alleged Alice Beaumounc gave to Michael Belet and Matilda his wife, and the heirs of their bodies, and that it descended to him as the son and heir of the aforesaid Michael and Matilda. John appeared in Court, and said that his father Reginald died seized of the said messuage, after whose death he entered as son and heir. He also pleaded that he was within age, and petitioned that the hearing of the case might be deferred until he attained his majority.‖ This was granted, but we cannot trace that the case was further pursued.

In 18th Edw. II. John Byloun was burgess in Parliament for Bodmin, and in 20th of the same King's reign he was knight for the shire, as he was also again, or one of the same name, in the 1st, the 24th, and the 30th Edw. III.; while in the 9th of that King John Billon and Henry Billon were burgesses for Bodmin.

In 1327 John Billoun levied a fine of William Mulleborn in certain lands, the names of which are illegible.¶ In 1333 we find John Billon and Robert Lestre plaintiffs in the Sheriff's, or Hundred, Court against John Day and William Avery in a plea of default in account; and in the same Court John Billon of Tregethan was plaintiff against John Melior of Truru March, in a plea of debt. In 1336 John Bylloun levied a fine of Robert de Lestr and others in Trethywol (Trethewol in St. Eval?), Treyer, Treworgy, Bodruthen, Pentyr, Trenemedr, Trewinhoys, Penros, Eglosheyel, Nanssent, Moeleure, Trewenyon, Hendremaennuwoles, and Tregyan.†† In the same year John Byllonn was one of the Commissioners for collecting the subsidy for the county of Cornwall. In 1340 John Billon is described as of Tregurthan (probably Tregarthen in St. Eval),‡‡ as he is again two years afterwards.§§ In 1346 John Bilyon of Trethewol was associated with the Sheriff in collecting the aid levied upon the Black Prince being made a knight. There were thus two John Billons living at the same time. Both John Billon of Trethewel and John Billon of Tregarthen, appear together as witnesses to a deed, dated 21st Edw. III. (1347), preserved at Trelawne. In 1350 an assize of view of recognizanee was granted to enquire if William Jaune and John Billoun and John his son had unjustly disseized Johanna Polscoth of her free tenement in Helwyn (Hellwin in Crantoek). It was shewn in the pleadings that one John Molys, one of whose heirs the said Johanna was, was seized in fee of this estate, and by charter, dated at Helwyn on Thursday in the Feast of St. Petrock, 23rd Edw. III. he granted the same to the said William Jaune and John de Tregona, chaplain, and their heirs for ever; and by another charter, dated at Carantoe on Friday in the Feast of St. John Baptist, in the same year, the said William Jaune and John de Tregona granted the said lands to the aforesaid John, son of John Billoun, who was then tenant, to hold to him and to the heirs males of his body, in default of sueh issue remainder to his brothers Thomas, Roger, and Ralph under similar limitation, in default of such issue remainder to Roger son of John Byllioun of Tregarthan and his heirs males, in default remainder to John brother of the same Roger and to his heirs males, in default remainder to Hervie son of Hillary Billoun and his heirs for ever. The jury found that John Billoun was justly seized, and Johanna Polscoth was nonsuited, and remained in mercy for a false claim.*

In 1351 John Billoun levied a fine of John Kellygryn in Wytheram, and the advowson of the church of St. Tudy;* and in 1363 Walter Bullen, son and heir of John Bullen, presented Walter de Sobey to the vicarage of the same church.†

In 1361 Hervie Billion and Mathew Milward were sued for having disseized John de Soby of his free tenement in Bodloweneglos.‡ It was found that a certain Johanna Irakle was seized in the tenement in view as in her demesne as of fee, and by her charter enfeoffed a certain Hillary Billyon,§ in order that the said Hillary should re-enfeoff the same Johanna and a certain William Loys, and the heirs of their bodies lawfully begotten, and if they died without heirs remainder to the right heirs of Johanna. This, however, Hillary was unwilling to do, claiming the land as his own, and of it died seized; and after the death of Hillary a certain Thomas, as son and heir of the said Hillary, entered, and of it died seized, after whose death Johanna entered, and was of it seized during her life, and recently died of it seized, after whose death entered the aforesaid John as cousin and heir of the aforesaid Johanna, viz. as the son of Alice, the daughter of John, son of Alice, sister of the aforesaid Johanna; and the said Hervie, being then within age, claims as brother and heir of the said Thomas, beeause the said Thomas of the said tenement died seized, and he entered upon the possessions of the aforesaid John de Soby, and removed him. The case was appointed to be further heard at Westminster in Easter Term following, but we have not been able to trace the reeord.

In 1363 an assize of novel disseizin was obtained to enquire if John, son of John Billioun of Tregarthyan,* Alice, who was the wife of John Billioun, Roger Billioun, and John Ganon had unjustly disseized John Iuonn of Treuurdre of his free tenement in Treuurdre juxta Pengelly (Trevorder or Treworder in Egloshaile). John Billioun alleged that the said lands had been in the seizin of his father for a long time past, and that a certain Ivo de Treuurdre, father of the said John Iuonn, whose heir he is, had by a certain charter remised and for ever quitclaimed for himself and his heirs to the same John, son of John Billioun, the whole of his right, interest, &c. in the said tenement, and obliged his heirs to warrant the same. The charter was proffered in Court, dated at Tregorthan, Saturday next before the Feast of St. Margaret the Virgin, A° r. r. 17th.

This was probably the first establishment of the family of Billing at Treworder in Egloshaile, where it flourished for several generations. The evidence, however, which we have been able to collect, although sufficient to shew the continuity of the family, does not enable us to construct, upon any satisfactory basis, a table of descent. The elder branch, which we suppose to have been represented by John Billing of Tregarthen, who seems to have had two sons only, in 1350, soon became extinct. The lands he held passed, probably by marriage, into the family of Halep, by which family they were held in bulk in 9th Henry VI. (1430-1). A younger branch appears to have become seated at Trelawder in St. Minver, sometime perhaps in the fifteenth century, from whence they derived the name of Trelawder, frequently used as an alias. We shall, therefore, now proceed to Richard Billing of Treworder, whose name stands at the head of the pedigree recorded in the Heralds' College. He was probably born about 1430, and from this date we shall be treading on firm ground.

Richard Billing of Treworder, or Trevorder, as it is written in the Heralds' Visitation pedigree, was probably the grandson of John Billing mentioned above as having acquired Trevurder. He had two sons: Richard, who succeeded him at Trevorder, and Thomas. Richard had two daughters, coheirs, Elizabeth, who married George Viell of Wood, co. Devon, and Margaret, who became the wife of John Kestell of Kestell in Egloshayle; in respect to which alliance the arms of Billing are quartered on an old Kestell monument in the church of Egloshayle.†

Thomas, second son of Richard Billing of Treworder, may have been the first who settled at Trelawder,‡ apparently in consequence of marriage with one of three coheirs of that name. He must have died about the year 1500. His son John Bylyng was assessed to the subsidy of St. Minver in 1525,§ at a far higher rate than any other inhabitant. John Bylyng, alias Trelawder, son of the last, settled in St. Tudy, having married Margery, daughter and coheir of Thomas

* Assize Rolls 37 Edw. III. N 2 27 } 1 m. 9.

† Some members of younger branches would seem to have continued in Egloshaile. Robert Byllyng was collector of the subsidy for that parish 35 Hen. VIII. He was probably the same who was assessed, two years afterwards, in that parish as Robert Trelawder. We also find Robert Treladeder in Egloshaile in 16 Hen. VIII. John Trelodre in Bodmin the same year, as also in the 37th. It is not however unlikely that these may have been scions of the family of Trelawder, whose heiress carried the estate into the family of Billing.

‡ The name still remains in Endellion and neighbouring parishes.

§ Subsidy Rolls, 16th Henry VIII.

Blewet * of that parish, descended from the Blewets of Colan. He was assessed to the subsidy in St. Tudy 1544.† In 1568 he aequired Hengar. William Billing, his son, was the father of two sons: Richard, who sueeeeded him at Hengar, and Reginald, who married Ann daughter and heir of Thomas Hocken of St. Breward, and founded the family of Billing of Lanke. Riehard Billing of Hengar was for many years Eseheator and Feodary of Charles Prinee of Wales. He died in 1624,‡ leaving considerable estates in various parishes, and among them two parts of three parts divided in Treleder ats Trelawder in St. Minver, which he had inherited from his aneestors. His son John Billing adhered to the royal eause during the rebellion, and was at Truro at the disbanding of the horse there, and eonsequently was admitted to compound for his estate.§ He left an only daughter, Elizabeth, who was the last of the Billing name at Hengar, and the grandmother of Samuel Miehell of the same plaee, who died 1786, the last inheritor of the Billing blood of the elder branch.

The descent of the Billings of Lanke is suffieiently shown in the annexed pedigree.

‡ He died 22nd July 1624. John Billing, Esq. was found to be his son and heir, and to be of the age of 15 years 11 months and 24 days at the time of his father's death. (Inq. P. M. 22 James, Wards and Liveries, Bundle 27, memb. 82.) Edward Billing, shewn as the son and heir and said to be aged 22 years at the Visitation in 1620, died in the following year, 1621.
